National Community College Conference on Service-Learning & Civic Engagement

May 18-19, 2018

Red Rocks Community College, Lakewood

Red Rocks Community College is pleased to announce that it will host a Community College Service Learning Conference May 18-19, 2018, in Lakewood, Colorado (in the Denver area). This dynamic and relevant conference will be an opportunity for community college faculty and staff to network and learn about promising practices in the field of service learning and community engagement. This national gathering will build on similar conferences hosted by the Community College National Center for Community Engagement from 1992 until it closed in 2015. A request for conference session proposals will be disseminated in fall 2017.
